

The Marketing Budget worksheet consists of separate budgets for: Advertising, Catalogs, Direct Mail, Literature, Product Launches, Public Relations, Resellers and Events/Trade Shows. Some of these items/areas/campaigns are arguable "Old School", but are still viable and may return to prominence... Each of these budgets can be used separately or in conjunction with the Advertising & Promotions Summary which tracks total annual marketing expenditures. If you choose to use one of the separate budgets, it is recommended that you first enter your monthly sales forecast totals on Row 18. Each budget calculates the monthly and annual expenses as a percent of sales, as well as comparing 1999's expenses to 2000's totals. The month names and years are calculated based on the values you enter in row 20. Enter your data into the unprotected cells in blue. Totals and percentages are calculated automatically.

Most Resellers (distributors and retailers) insist on an "Advertising Co-Op" or "MDF" percentage of your total annual sales in their stores. This fee is generally less than 5%. In addition to this fee, distributors and retailers will coordinate special advertising deals -- end-caps, full page ads -- and charge accordingly. Estimate your total "Advertising Co-Op" fee and divide by 12. Ad this value to your "special promotions" fees and enter your totals in the appropriate months.
